GLENCROSS INVITATIONAL OFFICIALLY SOLD OUT

Registration for Calgary's premier charity golf event, the Glencross Invitational proudly presented by PennWest Energy began at 9 am today.

"Every response for this event has surpassed our expectations. We are very fortunate to have Curtis Glencross support this initiative," said Roger Monette, tournament chair for the Glencross Invitational and president of Calgary Crime Stoppers Association.

Theresa Grosse, advisor and player rep was enthusiastic with the results. "Within minutes we were creating a waiting list while informing Curtis that the first annual Glencross Invitational was officially sold out!"

Glencross, in his first year with the Calgary Flames will be joined by friends from the NHL, the Stampede, recording industry and a beauty queen to raise funds in support of Calgary Crime Stoppers Association. Celebrities golfing in the invitational will be announced at a later date.

"Although, we are sold out on the links, another opportunity awaits those who enjoy rubbing shoulders with celebrities. Details about the Big Celebrity Bash will be announced very soon," said Grosse.

Proceeds from the Glencross Invitational in support of Calgary Crime Stoppers Association 'solving crime one tip at a time' initiative, will be used specifically to heighten community awareness by educating citizens on (talk/text/type) options available for making anonymous tips and providing valuable leads on crimes,"
